Digital Scholarship Workshops

presented by UCT Libraries in conjunction with Stanford Libraries, USA, and the Digital Humanities Association of Southern Africa (DHASA)

23rd - 25th January 2017

Mon. 23 January 10:00 - 12:30 UCT Libraries, Hlanganani Junction	• Public lecture Glen Worthey: Digital Humanities: Histories and Institutions at Stanford • Case studies, Q&A

Tues. 24 January
10:00 - 12:30
UCT Libraries,
Hlanganani Junction
	• Open lecture Gled Worthey:
	  Digital Humanities in the Library
	• Group discussion / Breakout groups:
	  Towards a Digital Scholarship programme at UCT with international collaboration

Wed. 25 January 10:00 - 12:00 UCT Libraries, Hlanganani Junction	• Open Lecture Glen Worthey: Digital Humanities in Society • Round table discussion

A few points of information about Digital Scholarship:

- comprises of digital methods of inquiry, research, publication and preservation to achieve scholarly and research goals.
- includes a broad range of data management activities, such as curating online collections, data mining of large data sets, data visualisation, and digital publishing.
- integrates key digital information issues such as: digital copyright, digital curation, digital repositories, and digital rights management.
- establishes digital media as credible, professional and legitimate means of research, at the intersection of computing and the various academic disciplines.

Special Collections and Archives: renate.meyer@uct.ac.za
Digital Library Services: niklas.zimmer@uct.ac.za
Subject Librarian, Humanities: ingrid.thomson@uct.ac.za

UNIVERSITY OF CAPE TOWN
IYUNIVESITHI YASEKAPA · UNIVERSITEIT VAN KAAPSTAD

DHASA
DIGITAL HUMANITIES ASSOCIATION OF SOUTHERN AFRICA

UCT LIBRARIES